

The Bomb

The truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth

Chances are that you can't handle the truth

But you need to know it anyway

Your children, their children and their children

Deserve to know the truth

The truth that the churches

The governments

And most medical and scientific, communities

And all psychological communities

Really don't want you to know

The Facts

The ancients came before us

The Greeks the Syrians the Egyptians the Romans the Vikings

The Aztecs the Incas, many societies have come before us

We have had witches and warlocks

Medieval tyrants, kings and queens

Dragon's demons and things that go bump in the night

We all know the story of the boogey man

The monster under the bed

The one armed axe man

We have all had myths fables and fairytales thrust upon us

We have all had storybooks and golden books even bibles read to us

But they are all stories to either inspire or frighten us

They are figments of our imagination

Are you scared of the dark?

Or are you more scared of what could be in the dark?

Conspiracy theories explained

Every major government, business, church or agency has a marketing and public relations company, department, or officer

There job is to spin a story in the most positive manner possible, for governments, It is so that you will only see the good side and re vote your government into power, for business it is so that you will buy there products and not someone else's products this is why terms like: new and improved: sounds better than we fixed the oil leak the dash doesn't rattle any more and the suspension strut doesn't collapse any more either

: New and improved: sounds so much better

So an official press release may actually be the biggest lie on the face of this planet

And yet the conspiracy theory may actually be the truth

It is called marketing, we all do it not just the governments or business or churches you do it too, you know a degree or a diploma influences people, you know the right cologne or perfume makes a difference, you know the right status makes a difference, you know that owning the right car makes a difference, you know that bling impresses others, you know that first impressions count, you know that even though you could be the best qualified for the job, you still have to look the best and impress the interviewer at a job interview, these are all every day things in our lives so why is it when we question governments, we are traitors or terrorists, why is it if we question the church, we are blasphemous or sinners

I believe in the three wise men Moses Jesus Mohammed three very wise men that all believed in god the same god just a different name, god or Allah just different spelling

But governments and churches will spin up fears of the war on terror to show their way is right, that their god is the only one to worship, the government will spin it so that there economy will boom, by spinning up the war on terror they have sold billions and billions of dollars of weapons of war, How many planes tanks helicopters or ships has your country bought so that the United States of America can profit from the war on terror

Who is the freedom fighter and who is the terrorist, recently I was informed that if two Islamic nations are at war and if one nation requests a cease fire then the other nation must oblige

Does this now make George W Bush the terrorist seeing that he turned down the offer from Osama Bin Laden

Is George W bush a man of peace and cares about god's children or is he a man of profit and self worth and enjoys bombing god's children

An over view of society in general

My way is to break down every single event in your life and realize that maybe you as in the person that reads my book may have misperceived the event, but only you will be the judge of that, not me

Every single child on this rock is unique and an individual with an individual perception and there is no one way to treat someone so I break it all down and let them know this, that no matter what part of the world you live in we are all just kids in a sandpit playing with matchbox cars Tonka trucks and Lego blocks but there are always sandpit bullies that will call you names and give you labels but that is there perception of you not yours or mine. I believe every child is born pure and society beats it out of them

I wrote it in a manner that I have written a letter to you, every single you on this planet; this is why it will be translated into every conceivable language, over time

My way is this I have studied societies in general from ancient to the present and understand the languages that have formed over time, for example bibles have been written then translated over time by different people's perceptions. The current language in society is disease illness and labels like nuts crazy insane and chemical imbalance of the brain, but it is just a language that the drug companies and the non understanding side of the psychological society, the ones that have proven that if you think out loud and disagree with them then you have a disease or an imbalance. I break things down so that a five year old child can understand it

There is always two sides to a story sometimes even more, for example the movie the exorcism of Emily rose (I have not seen it but have heard what it is about) two priests of the catholic church declared a little girl possessed by Satan, a Satan that the catholic church created to keep children under control, the little girl didn't act the way mummy and daddy wanted her to act so they went looking for possession. During the exorcism Emily rose passed away. The psychological community got involved along with the lawyers and proved she had a disease called schizophrenia, which is marketed as the most debilitating disease of the brain. They went looking for a disease (language system) that they created. The two catholic priests were found guilty of negligent homicide.

The truth of the matter is this simple, a little girl didn't get loved by mummy and daddy the way that she wanted to be loved she was hurting and in emotional pain so mummy and daddy got two catholic priests to kill her

I have a female friend that when she is happy she is very happy yet when she is unhappy and doesn't get what she wants she turns into grumblebitch, one day she focuses intensely on the positive and next she focuses intensely on the negative, when she is negative she gets that horrible yucky shitty feeling in her guts, I know that feeling quite well myself, yet others might say she is bi-polar and the scientists have proven that is a chemical imbalance because that's what they go looking for

The catholic church created heaven and hell, that's why we have two figures in our society when were bad we will burn in hell with a scary red dude called Satan yet when we are good and celebrate the mass of Christ, Christmas, and be nice to our parents and do it the Christian way then a jolly red fat dude will give us presents his name is Santa (Same letters just muddled up a little).

See good and evil right and wrong high and low.

To a scientist that's a chemical imbalance yet it is just a language system Jesus was a good man and one of gods children no different than you or me, he wasn't born on the 25th of December that was a pagan ceremony celebrated by feasts and orgies that's why the catholic church created the last supper one bottle of wine one loaf of bread and an immaculate conception see now you don't need feasts and orgies yet at Christmas most of us eat too much drink too much and some of us get laid if were lucky, so they tried but failed

Easter was a wicken ceremony celebrating fertility hence the fertile egg and they hump like rabbits but the catholic church wants you to do it there way. If you don't then you will burn in hell. In there marketing they tell us that all gods children are born into sin and if you don't take the lord Jesus Christ into your life then you will burn in hell. If Jesus truly did rise again do you think that the world would be in such a state, that it is in now I know someone that developed (obsessive compulsive disorder) because at five mind you felt that if she didn't go to the toilet correctly or if she didn't clean her room correctly that god would not forgive her. Yet the psychiatrist would convince her that she has a disease, and the scientist would tell her that she was curable by drugs, all the drugs do is make someone so drowsy that they cant be bothered to do the actions, yet the thoughts are still there but then the psychiatrist says, see now your all better

About eight weeks ago I had a so called priest read my book a non denomination priest that claims to be about giving kids a helping hand yet he replied and basically said that because the book is written in total question format because I haven't got your own answers but I do have the right questions, but because he felt that people would come to me for the answers and not to him that he would not tell anyone about my book. A man of god or a man of self glory

In America transsexuals are considered to have a disease and how could they want to be anything other than what they were born as, yet in Brazil they are loved and revered like princesses and considered the third gender, in some remote island cultures they are treated like princesses and queens as well. Some that I have met are the strongest individuals i,ve ever met, they are what they want to be, not what you expect them to be. A long time ago the English knights invaded the middle east and looted, raped there women and murdered there men and children so someone said don't drink piss you will act like them, cover up the women and escort them to the shops, and we say they treat their women badly, yet walk into any pub in Australia and there is a sign on the wall that says stop your mate from hittin his missus, we all need to look into the mirror

Science, what is gravity the scientists have proven that the earth spins at such a rapid rate that it creates gravity that stops us spinning off into space and sucks us down to the ground, where is the sun every morning, the sun is in the east every morning which means we do one full rotation of the sun every twenty four hours which means we are travelling at the same rate of travel as the big hand on a twenty four hour clock not real fast is it. If we spun any faster we would spin off into space just like spokey dokeys on a Childs push bike. So how credible is science if they stuffed up a simple theory like gravity

I recently spoke to my grandfather and told him that he was a stupid old fool and has no idea what he was talking about, his reply was see you've got the same disease as your father. I disagree with someone and think out loud when I get the shits, and I have the most debilitating disease of the brain schizophrenia, that's curable by drugs you know

The disease of the twenty first century is not actually depression it is the American constitution it was formed to give the poor the rights to possess property the right to bear arms the right to an attorney the right to live the American dream, typical human spirit they went overboard, but if you don't give them that right then you are a bad person, you are nuts crazy insane or have a chemical imbalance of the brain. There just sandpit bullies putting you down so that they feel better about themselves just like a kid in a sandpit that says your fat you're a stoopid head you're a moron.

No different than my grandfather, See just a new language system I believe in what the three wise men have said Moses Jesus Mohammad They all basically said, treat people how people treat you yet they forgot to ask this one vital question

How do you want to be treated

Knowledge

With knowledge, understanding and wisdom you can learn what is really in the dark, the same thing that is there in the light, your imagination, your emotions and your own fears, but always remember the fears are all in your own mind

The sky is blue and water is wet, the earth spins at one full revolution every day, there are sixty seconds in a minute, sixty minutes in an hour, twenty four hours in a day, seven days in a week, fifty two weeks in a year, twelve calendar and thirteen lunar months in a year, and one extra day, every leap year, of four

So the earth really doesn't spin really really fast to create gravity, the ancients worked that out years ago, that's why they created sundials, captain James Cook found Australia using the stars and a sextant from maps that were written by ancient mariners before him, that is why above the Australian sky we have the southern cross

How could an American have walked on the moon, we have all been told that the tides are created from the gravitational pull of the moon, yet we have all been told that there is no gravity on the moon, why is it that nasa can spend billions of dollars on shuttles to blow into millions of pieces on exit and re-entry yet they tell us that the hole in the ozone layer is huge, why not send the rockets and shuttles through the hole in the ozone layer, why is it that the Russians successfully go into outer space without any trouble or trauma, why is it that Nasa can retrieve two entire space shuttles after complete destruction of tons and tons of rocket fuel causes the detonation of these space craft, yet a Boeing 757 completely disintegrated before impact with the pentagon?

Doesn't Boeing build the space shuttle?

Isn't the moon made of cheese?

Wouldn't it melt if a rocket landed on it?

Global warming

The planet earth is simply one big snow dome, a very big snow dome but still a snow dome indeed

We are all taught that the earth spins really really fast to create gravity yet it does not, get a child's pushbike, spin the pedals really fast and drop the back wheel in to a pool of water, what happens? As the tire hits the water the water spins away from the wheel and splashes all over you, so therefore gravity is created by mass not centrifugal force, if it was centrifugal force, all of the water would spin off and we would be a desert planet, now I pose another question did man walk on the moon or is this just another con job by the united states government?

Get a glass and half fill the glass, then mark the water level, put it in the freezer then note that the water level has risen about ten percent, defrost the water and as it returns to room temperature, you will find that even though the temperature of the water is quite warm the ice will remain at 0 degrees Celsius until all of the ice finally melts and it will return to the level on the glass that you had previously marked, kinda like beer in an esky

The scientists all tell us about the ice shelf's breaking off and tell us about global warming and the earth is doomed, just like the book of revelations, the end of the world is nigh, I have a question for you, what sank the Titanic?, Shock - horror this is nothing new, a gasp the drama of it all.

I was once told that the scientific formula states that water expands 20 percent when heated, yet when I was about seven and in the cubs I was told that water evaporates at 100 degrees Celsius, which formula is correct?

Icebergs float and only 10 percent is above the water line which means that 90 percent is under water kind of like the expansion in the glass when you freeze it, so theoretically even if all of the icebergs were to melt would it remain at the same sea level? You do the math.

There is snow on the peaks of Kosciusko during winter yet not in summer, yet that doesn't affect the water levels, there is snow on the peaks of the Rockies during winter yet not in summer, yet that doesn't affect the water levels, there is snow on the Ethiopian mountains that waters the Egyptian landscape yet that doesn't effect the water levels, or does it? You do the sums.

2500 BC the ancient Egyptians had 3 - 4 month seasons the flood season, the fertile season and the drought season.

When I moved up to Maitland when I was 9, we moved during a five-year drought and water was very scarce, yet in 1955 the entire area of Maitland was under metres of water during the great flood, there is El Niño and el nano

Climates change, it is a very normal process but the scientists use drama to pump up claims that are totally ridiculous so that they can justify their own existence and sell magazines and books to pump up the American economy so that American presidents can bomb innocent children and drug children into submission, so much for the land of the free and freedom of speech

Americans can have freedom of speech as long as you agree with the bush administrations policy but if you are like George Clooney and publicly question the war on Muslims then they brand George a traitor, if your like the Dixie chicks and are ashamed of your own president people take it out on you and destroy your image and destroy your credibility

It is all myths fables and fairytales

Every single person on this planet thinks in sight, sound, smell and taste, we even think with touch, every single thing we witness shall and will influence our every perception on this planet within this universe, everything we see smell hear or touch shall influence our personal interpretation on life the universe and everything, yet the answer is not 42, the answer is you, you are the answer, you can achieve anything that you set your mind too

The myths the fables the stories and the legends have been instilled into you by others over many years of their own frustrations, turmoil and misery, yet you can overcome any obstacle that is thrown before you

You can achieve anything that you set your mind too

Always believe in the most important thing on this rock

YOU

God Allah and the big bang

God to me is an entity that created the universe, something not male not female but a little bit of both, the western world calls that entity God. The eastern world calls that entity Allah yet the scientists call it the big bang, yet when it all comes down to it we will never understand what we can not comprehend, we weren't there when it happened so all we can do is speculate and theorize on definite possible maybes. There is no absolute to how the earth, the solar system, and the universe was created they are simply theories, but the answer to life the universe and everything is not 42, the answer is You.

You are the bomb, you are the answer, you are the messiah, you are your own god, you have the power of god within yourself, and never let anyone tell you differently, you have the power within, within yourself. You

My belief is this, throughout history men have come along and claimed to have spoken to god, men have created religions, men have created bibles, men have created lines on maps, men have created borders, men have created countries, men have created nations, and men behaving like spoilt little children have created wars, over lines in the sandpit, over beliefs of god, over beliefs of religion, men have claimed to have witnessed miracles, men have claimed to have seen the light and been given powers from god, in reality this is simply not true.

Whether Moses actually spoke to god as he claimed that he had. He gave us some pretty cool rules to live by, whether Mohammad went up the mountain and spoke to Allah, or not, he came back down with some pretty cool ideals, unfortunately like most great men those rules were misunderstood, in Islam women are told to wear garments to cover up and it is not right to drink alcohol, my personal belief is this, in times of peril and danger someone once said don't drink alcohol, you will act like them, cover up the missus and escort her to the shops, it has been blown out of proportion ever since, a Muslim woman's garments are no different than anyone that doesn't want to be seen as sexual, we are all sexual, yet a Muslim woman's robes are really no different than a nuns habit, a Muftis, priest's or rabbis robes, they do not want to be seen as sexual to you, they want to stay unseen to you so that they are special or sacred to their husband or partner, the western world says that Muslim women are treated badly yet walk into any aussie pub and you will see a sign up on the wall that says, stop your mate from hittin his missus, yet we say they treat women badly.

My belief is that a woman should be able to dress as sexy or as comfortable as she feels fit, and guys should keep there dicks in there pants until it is perfectly clear that you are welcome in their arms or welcome sexually, girls if you don't have sex with a guy sometimes a guy will tell you that he will get blue balls and it will hurt like hell, it is true it does hurt, so tell him if he doesn't take care of it himself they will turn purple and chances are they might fall off.

There is a reference point in all religions that everyone associates "yey zoos" you probably know him as Jesus Christ, please learn to pronounce his name correctly (Yey zoos) if you respect the man, as he had respect for you, then pronounce his name correctly. He was the greatest man that ever walked this earth, in my opinion he was a man, a good man, a mortal man no better and no less than you. Apparently he was Jewish and a prophet, the Jewish people respected him and so do the believers of Islam, to my knowledge the word Islam, means peace. He was a teacher and never claimed to be more than that, yet the Catholic Church wanted you to worship Christ in their way. I am starting to believe that (yey zoos) was never even crucified on a cross I am starting to believe that (yey zoos) was bragging to his mates about how often he was getting nailed, if the stories are true about Leonardo's painting of the last supper then there was a woman within the twelve disciples, as a mate of mine once said about the body of Christ that you are given in church, he was a fine strapping young lad from Ireland, (yey zoos) would not want to be remembered as a piece of tasteless cardboard crap, he would want to be remembered as, cupcakes.

(yey zoos) was not born on the 25th of December that day in history was a pagan ceremony, celebrated by feasts and orgies, (yey zoos) did not die at Easter and rise four days later, Easter was a wikan ceremony celebrating fertility hence the fertile egg and they hump like rabbits.

Next time you're in church and they say amen realize that you are worshiping an Egyptian sun god called amen rah

The word Christ comes from a Greek word Christus meaning messiah because he did what everyone felt a messiah would do, he forgave people for what they had done in the years before.

The word Christmas comes from two words the (mass) for (Christ) Christmas, that's why we have two dudes in our society, two red dudes, one scary red dude called Satan, personally I don't think he exists and he is a figment of most peoples imaginations, and another dude, a jolly red fat dude called Santa, if you don't believe he exists, that's why he doesn't come to you anymore.

Respect for others

Learn to respect others because if you don't then others will never learn to respect you.

Money isn't everything, it is what you do with it that counts you could have all the money in the world, all the tea in china, all the diamonds in Africa yet if you don't have good mates or great girlfriends, you don't have squat nothing nada nyit zip.

So learn to respect others and others may learn to respect you, Ya never know, you might have a very pleasant side effect and end up with some very cool mates and some very awesome girlfriends, you might even achieve a higher side effect of inner peace which might actually lead to peace, you know that thing we all want but no one thinks we can achieve.

Peace

Hanging out ceremony

Marriage to most, in today's society is till divorce do us part, in most churches and governments same sex marriages are a sin or not allowed.

There is an alternative

You could have a hanging out ceremony, if you give me what I want, I will hang out with you. If I give you what you want, you may hang out with me.

To make it legal, go and see your lawyer and accountant and start a business agreement that gives you legal rights as partners, it will be under the disguise as business partners not marriage but it will give you legal rights. If you plan to have, or adopt children and start a family. Then start a family trust, a discretionary trust, with all members of the family as beneficiaries, to make sure that your children don't lose out, if your relationship doesn't work out, for what ever reason.

As for a celebration invite family and friends to a venue of your choice and have a ceremony to declare your love for, and too each other, and the world. If anyone says your love for each other is ungodly or against the church. Look them in the eye and say God created this universe and men created bibles and religions, our love for each other is stronger than any other force in the known universe, and our love is right for us.

If you are a same sex couple and anyone says to you that it takes a man and a woman to create a life and same sex couples will raise gay children, look them in the eye and say, if that's the case why was I raised in a straight household and I like the same sex?

The child I adopted was thrown away by a man and a woman that created that very life and we love that very child with all our heart soul and being, no matter what religious belief or sexual preference our child chooses in the future.

As you look them in the eyes then walk away, say this simple line.

You are You and we don't tell you how to live your life please give us the same respect.

Money power and knowledge

Back when time began there was no money and people used the barter system, kinda like, if you scratch my back I'll scratch yours, so then people started trading chickens for grain, grain for eggs, cows for sheep, goats for pigs and so on.

One day someone decided to use pebbles and shiny trinkets as a system to control others so people would trade shiny pebbles, one day someone came along and said, my pebbles are shinier than your pebbles so I want two of your pebbles for every one of my shiny pebbles, then it was five pebbles then ten pebbles then fifty and up went the amount of pebbles for one of their shiny pebbles. Along the way the dollar was created, the pound, the ruble, the yen the euro.

Along the way knowledge became saleable and some people said, my knowledge is more valuable than your knowledge, so I will charge you for my knowledge. This is why schools colleges and universities charge such high prices for education. Governments then have to give loans to students and charge hecs fees and interest on loans.

I once watched a scene in a movie where a street walker (sex worker) walks up to a guy and says, would you like a lady for the night, then says, that's right I ask you every night and you always reply, I don't pay for sex.

She then goes on to say, I guess you pay for it the traditional way, chocolates, flowers, dinner, engagement party, wedding ceremony, marriage, car payments, mortgage, school fees, psychiatrists, counseling and finally divorce.

It made me think, when you think about it, at least a sex worker is totally honest and up front, they don't beat about the bush, so to speak, that they are only screwing you for money. Can you honestly say at least one of your previous partners wasn't so honest, and you felt like you were screwed over for all your money.

Some of the loveliest people that I have met in my life have been sex workers, some of the most confident women that I have ever met were exotic dancers, very beautiful very confident women that have no hang ups about their own bodies. When you think about it they are the confident and honest ones.

Yet some of the lousiest people that I have met claim to either be god or talk to god, the bible was written by men that claim to know what god wanted, yet something created this universe and men created religions, heaven, hell and misery.

Men labeling themselves as scientists created diseases for you to suffer and go back to them for forgiveness and the cure.

Men created money and economies to control, some believe that they can control people using money to give them what they believe the people want, yet some leaders will spend billions on space exploration, and fake lunar landings before feeding innocent starving children, some leaders, and I do use the term loosely, will bomb and kill innocent children instead of feeding them.

Always remember money is not important, it is what you do with it that counts.

America and their patents

The American people are obsessed with money they believe they have the right to rule the world . they worked out a long time ago that knowledge was power and power led to money, so they decided to create theories, diseases and wars so that you go back to them for the cure. You might think that's a little crazy and paranoid and a conspiracy theory but think about it, you have to go back to where you bought a product to get the warranty, you have to go back to a car dealer for the correct service, or your warranty is null and void. You have to go back to your church for forgiveness. You have to go back to your computer supplier for assistance with a fault, why wouldn't they do it, everyone else does.

I was once told that the Germans created a,b,s and airbags but Bosch either didn't patent them or they did and let every car manufacturer use their design because it was a safety device and could save lives. Yet according to public records and Boyd graves www.boydgraves.com the American scientists created a special virus cancer program and deliberately administered it to people in Africa and 1243 specifically targeted gay men in Manhattan to create a disease that you have to go back to them and increase their economy. The American psychological association created psychological diseases, to justify their own importance so that they can control you and feel as though they have the power, and then you have to go back to them for the cure, so that you can line their pockets as you suffer from the emotional turmoil that they created.

The so called diseases that they have created are just like any creation in someone else's mind they are just myths, fables and fairytales they are simply a creation in someone else's mind, not your mind, they simply instill this belief into your own mind. You can choose to believe it or you can choose not too. Always remember you are you and never let anybody take that away from you.

The cure for HIV/aids was patented in a united states of America patent office in 1997 Boyd graves used to have, but no longer has HIV/aids and has been trying to have the matter brought out in the courts in the united states of America, but if Boyd graves is correct and after checking his website I believe he is, he has done some very thorough research and he is a lawyer. If he is correct that would make the united states of America liable for its creation and victims of this crime would then have to be compensated. I spoke with a girlfriend once and when I said America created aids her reply was, that's not very nice. I have also spoken to a lawyer and his reply was, if it is patented then it must be a cure, because it would have had to have undergone at least two years of testing in the relevant pharmaceutical and scientific testing, I also spoke with a law student in his final year, his reply was, that is genocide.

No wonder they don't want Boyd Graves to bring it all out in the courts.

Always remember no matter what has happened in the past can be corrected in the future by understanding the past we can change our path and correct it in the future. Always remember no matter how bad the past has been, tomorrow is another day and always remember you are you and never let anybody take that away from you

The real answer to life the universe and everything is not 42 the answer is

You

Diabetes

At the age of twenty I had a sugar scare, my blood sugar levels were at a huge 14.9 Yep just under 15

apparently the normal level is 4 or 5, I checked my blood sugar levels several times a day for about eighteen months and learnt that after certain meals and drinks my blood sugar levels varied quite considerably

I went to a different G.P and he put me through a simple test to prove I didn't have Diabetes I didn't even do the full time of the test he was convinced only half way through. the simple test was this

I went to the doctors at 8 am, I was told not to go to the toilet or eat or drink anything from the evening before, I gave a urine sample to the nurse when I first went to the doctors that morning, he then asked me to drink a bottle of lucozade, every half hour I gave a new urine sample, at the conclusion of the test he decided I was not diabetic

I also agree with the medical outcome of his decision yet I also have at times had very high blood sugar levels that indicate to some professionals that I do indeed have diabetes. Again it is all in, what we are taught to look for

A good example is I was at a girlfriends for Christmas and got up on boxing day, very hung over and she commented on the fact that my hands were shaking, she said you have the D,T,s, my reply was, someone else said it was motor neurones disease Yet all it was, was I simply had way too much bourbon and coke (I was full of sugar) plus the only thing I ate all day was chips and dips (also full of sugar) so therefore in the morning my body did not have time to break down all of the sugar in my body

A few hours later after a couple of coffees and some real food my body was back to its normal self. So if we are all individuals and have different body shapes and different lives and food habits, what is a normal blood sugar level if mine ranges from 5 to 15, what does other peoples normal daily sugar level range from?

I here of stories of children going into insulin shock, is this shock due to sugar level or due to the fact they fear they are about to die, the Australian aboriginals feared the bone, if someone pointed the bone at you, you believed you will die, so they died

Hypnotists can make a group on a stage fall fast asleep with the wave of a hand, they can make them do all sorts of things at the drop of a hat, are we just hypnotizing these children into believing that if there sugar level gets too low they will die, and they believe it
it would scare a lot of children

I was recently told a story of a guy jumping train carriages in the U.S and he jumped into a carriage and closed the door he then realized he was locked in, he then realized that he was trapped in a freezer carriage, he kept a journal of the time he was in this carriage he wrote about how he was so cold and the excruciating pain that he was suffering as he froze to death, after they found the dead body they did an investigation and found that the freezer was not even turned on
He believed that he was freezing to death, so he willed himself to death
Yet a Shoalin monk can sit in the freezing cold, on top of a mountain in tiny thin robes and get up in the morning, right as rain and go about there daily business.

HIV/aids

The aids creation theories

Through out time, like the universe and everything, theories have been created, myths fables and fairytales have been told too children and adults alike. We've all been told about the boogey man, we've all been told about the monster under the bed, and we've all been told about wizard's goblins and fairies. We've all been told about Satan and we all know that Santa is definitely real.

One theory of how aids came about, was it came from pigs, well a long time ago a group of people felt that the internal organs of a pig were very similar to the internal organs of human beings, You. So they thought that eating pigs would be sacrilegious or even cannibalistic so they felt that eating pork (pigs) was wrong, but there is almost nothing better than bacon and eggs in the morning, some nice mushrooms, lightly grilled tomato with a dash of salt and pepper. But people that want you to fear god created the belief that aids started with pigs and eating an animal similar to you was a sin and you were being punished. But there is no need to fear god or Allah as they are the same entity and that entity should not be feared.

One theory says aids was started by monkeys in Africa again by either eating them or one theory even says that it was from having sex with monkeys. Hey im a big believer in its only kinky the first time, but, that's even way too kinky for me. But it didn't add up, even before I found Boyd Graves website www.boydgraves.com one scientific theory says that we evolved from monkeys so how could we catch a disease from crossing from one species to another if we evolved from that species. But if we evolved from monkeys why are there still monkeys. The reason they can't find a missing link is because there is no missing link we are different species.

A few years ago Darwin's theory was tried in an American court the evolutionists went up against the creationists and the creationists won.

The basis of Darwin's theory was that we evolved from single cell organisms, yet one of the so called single cell organisms under a microscope actually had 45 moving parts. The comment at the end of the story was that basically Darwin's entire theory was more of a religious belief than scientific fact, but what is science if they can't even work out how fast the earth spins.

People come up with theories, beliefs and religions yet you are you and you, you have the intelligence to look at all the facts and all the information and make up your own mind, I firmly believe in the power of the mind if you believe something strongly enough it will happen, if you believe a pill will cure cancer then it will, it may as well be a tic tac, but if you believe that pill will make everything better then it will.

Never believe what you are told always ask as many questions as possible.

Throughout time, life the universe and everything, things have been proven and disproven stories have been told that were thought to be true yet were later found not to be true, science is the easiest to disprove, the scientists look at the world and tell stories that are totally untrue, children see the blatant obvious facts, yet scientists over complicate these obvious facts with over complicated theories, and if you don't agree them you get an F on your school exam, they use an advertising technique that is well known, repeat, repeat, repeat, eventually you believe the marketing, for example the myth of the chemical imbalance of the brain goes back as far as witches and warlocks, toil and trouble, boil and bubble, eye of newt and tongue of toad, even the story Doctor Jekyll and Mister Hyde, but there is no such thing as a chemical imbalance of the brain, if anyone ever tells you that you are a chemical imbalance or that you have a disease or a disorder is plane and simply, an asshole.

Always believe in the power of your own mind, always believe in the power that you hold within, always believe in you.

The con job that is 9/11

Or simply put, the war on Muslims

Adolph bush most likely created or at least over saw 9/11, my father was a master builder and my step father a fitter and turner and I know steel and concrete structures do not fall in that manner, it was most definitely a controlled demolition, no doubt about it.

We have all seen the scene where the American president is sitting in the school classroom and an aid walks over to him and says, excuse me mister president.

Well I have also seen footage of a reporter asking George w bush, where were you when you found out about the attacks on America, his reply was, I was sitting at home watching the television and I watched those planes crash into the twin towers, how could the president of the united states of America forget where he was when the worst attack on American soil took place? Where were you when it happened chances are you can picture it in your mind, the horror and the terror of it all, it will probably be etched into your mind for the rest of your life? So the president of the united states of America has lied to us, right to our face on camera.

The bush and bin laden families are very close, Osama bin laden was trained by the American government, on 9/11 every plane in America was grounded yet one plane flew out of America, it had the bin laden family on it, why would you do that for your enemy? Is this just a game being played by two children in a sandpit, a game of cowboys and Indians? A game that they play with real guns and bows and arrows, a game where Osama jumps up and says, ooh ooh ooh can I be the bad guy, can I be the Indian.

Supposedly three thousand people didn't turn up to work on September 11 there is footage on www.whatreallyhappened.com of fire fighters explaining on the day that, no way in hell should it fall that way, seven of the eleven alleged terrorists are still alive today, a group worked out that the room the terrorists allegedly stayed in was deliberately set up so that we would know who they wanted us to believe did the attacks on September 11, supposedly the night before September 11 the alleged terrorists got drunk and went to a bar and bragged that they were going to destroy the towers and everyone else was an infidel, if this was such a secret terrorist organization why would they risk blowing there operation in a pub? A mate once said to me where would the money come from and how many people would have to be payed and how would they cover it up, for starters George bush and his son are in a secret society called the skull and bones, George bush senior was once the head of the CIA

Even though Adolph bush tells us that a 757 flew into the pentagon there is no way in hell a 757 crashed into the pentagon. There was a thirteen foot hole, chances are it was a missile. a Boeing 757 is one hundred and twenty five feet wide and has two six ton engines attached to it, check out this website

<http://www.pentagonstrike.co.uk/flash.htm#Main>

At one point they mention that an unknown plane was coming in at a phenomenal speed of seven hundred and fifty kmh. Do a Google search a Boeing 757 cruise speed is, from memory 800 kmh and top speed is about 850 kmh, so it doesn't seem so phenomenal now, does it?

Because there is no wreckage on the lawn of the pentagon they tell us that the 757 disintegrated and fell apart before it hit the pentagon, if a single Boeing jet disintegrated and fell apart anywhere in the world at any time every civil aviation authority in the world would have had every single Boeing plane grounded world wide. I have seen the discovery DVD of the making design engineering and testing of the Boeing 747 no way in hell do Boeing planes just fall apart and disintegrate.

In the documentary, 9/11 in plane sight they slow down the footage and you cant see any windows which leads to the fact that they were most likely military planes, which poses the question, were are the real planes that flew from the airports, or did they actually leave the airport?

It is quite interesting to note that since information is coming out now about how much they have over estimated the oil reserves countries like Dubai have concentrated heavily on tourism, the Dubai palm sand island project started in august of 2001 and there economy was starting to boom, it is very interesting that when construction of the palm islands began and there economy was starting to boom, the American scientists told us all that the world will flood due to global warming, when in reality it can not possibly flood.

And now the piece d, resistance if it was the lebs and the wogs and those pesky bloody Muslims, which I know it wasn't. firstly I don't remember the new York fire department finding any gold chains and the car they found at the airport would have been a fully sick wrx bro with a set of twenty inch chromies and this number plate " TERRST "

A Muslim is a person that believes in Islam and to my knowledge the very word Islam means

Peace

An open letter to the children of the world

As a child I always felt we could learn to get along so I set out to explain it to you, you the individual. It is a lot easier to get along and understand each other than arguing yelling and fighting. Along the way I have had many many obstacles placed in my path but I learnt how to side step them. In this letter to You, I will try to express the essence of what I am about, I have never been christened or baptized, and I think I have only been in a church quite possibly three or four times in my life, probably only once by choice, along the way in the travels of my life I have learnt many things, the greatest lesson I have learnt is to respect others for what they are, not what they are to you. I have been lucky enough to have met what I consider the greatest mum on this planet, I hope and wish that you can have the same, also the coolest chick on this rock, also the most confident woman on this planet, someone I once considered my best friend, and also the loveliest calming and relaxing women that ever graced this earth and recently the best mate anyone could ever wish for, I guess in a lot of ways I have been very lucky, most would not see it that way, but hey I have been told I am overly optimistic, I believe in what three very wise men have said before me Moses, Jesus, Mohammad

Yet I take my hat off to all of the women that have helped me get through the toughest times in my life, one woman in particular, said something to me once that I rarely hear, she said, I know my mum loves me, I am lucky enough to have the same outlook or philosophy on life, but hey I guess it could be as simple as the fact that I picked mum and not because, she picked me.

My parents separated when I was about 18 months old and were divorced shortly afterward, my mother and father both fought for custody of their children, my mother won the court cases, yet would not give my father weekend access to his children, this made my father very angry he lost the plot, the bitch stole his kids and ruined his life, it sent him round the twist, this lead to him being diagnosed by the psychological community as being schizophrenic, a disease, marketed as the most debilitating disease of the brain. Yet all he wanted was his children in his life.

The very existence of the reference of a chemical imbalance of the brain comes from a story book; a story created from a very creative imaginative individual, that story is doctor Jekyll and Mister Hyde so I set out to explain to you that science just like any storybook, is just fiction. It was created in peoples minds that felt that they needed you to think that they are smarter than you, but in reality they are not, their dumber than you, they can't even work out where the sun is every morning, that and they think the world spins really really fast to create gravity.

I knew at the age of five that when people don't get what they want they get the shits, some chuck a tantrum think out loud and wave their hands in the air, some mope and keep it to themselves and think inside their head. We all have thought inside our head, positive thought, negative thought, happy thought, sad thought and even conflicting thought. Some call that thought voices. The psychiatrists call it bi-polar or schizophrenia, curable by drugs, we all have our good days and we all have our bad days, we all have highs and we all have lows.

Psychology, the very word means, study of the soul, probably said about the mid 16th century from a word called psycho logia break it down to psykhe meaning breath, spirit, soul. Plus logia meaning study of, in other words the study of the mind, not the chemical imbalance of the brain

The psychopathic community along with the scientific community have tried to convince us all that we are all chemical imbalances of the brain, yet we are not. They have proven it scientifically, yet I can see through science just like I can see through any lie, so I have pointed out the blatant lies in science and disproven every single psychological theory on this planet, for you. Just to prevent you from going through what I had to deal with over the course of my life. So that you can stand tall and say with pride, im not like everybody else

I am me and you are you.

When I wasn't what my mother wanted me to be I was declared an uncontrollable child at the police station, when I wasn't what my father wanted me to be I was a little shit that ruined his life, when I wasn't what my older sister wanted me to be I hurt her, when I wasn't what my younger sister wanted me to be, she told me to fuck off and never come back, when I wasn't what my stepfather wanted me to be he belted me with a leather belt until I wept, when I wasn't what my grandfather wanted me to be I had the same disease as my father. Yet all I ever can, and will be, is me. All you can ever be is you; you are you and never let anybody ever take that away from you.

When you aren't what the catholic church want you to be you are a sinner or blasphemous, when you aren't what the president of the united states of America wants you to be, you are a traitor or worse a terrorist, when you aren't what the psychological community wants you to be, you have a disease, a disease curable by drugs, what the drugs do is knock the victim senseless, so senseless that they are bombed out of their brain so that they don't resist when they are treated badly, notice a pattern yet

When you are not what someone else wants you to be, you are wrong, it is just the language system that they use from different belief systems that differentiates each belief system, they are all different belief systems and so are religions, this in itself proves to me that psychology and science is just another religious belief, yet they force it onto you, the individual, and tell you that if you don't believe their religious belief you are wrong and you are either nuts crazy insane or have a chemical imbalance of the brain or that you are simply wrong.

In reality You are You and never let anybody take that away from You

Along the way I learnt that when I was confused or frustrated I would get angry or upset so I worked out that when I understood something I would no longer be upset, pretty simple when you think about it, along the way I have experienced, loneliness, depression, discrimination, anger, hatred, violence, suicidal tendencies, sexual assault, emotional abuse, physical and psychological abuse and most of it from my own family, yet also from society itself, yet I feel that I do not have the right to ever treat you in the way that I have been treated, ever. I will never tell another soul how they should live their own individual life because you are you and no-one has the right to tell you how you should live your life, no-one should tell you that your personal, religious, spiritual or even sexual preference is wrong, because it is right for you.

I tell this story because it was simply a part of my life, to most it shocks and astounds them that anyone could treat a child in this manner, but hey it was just a part of my life. When I was about seven I borrowed a mates bmx, this was about 1977 when bmx, s were very expensive, I was pedaling this bike around a corner and the pedal hit the ground and dug into the tar, well I went straight over the handle bars and hit the tar, luckily for me, my face absorbed the fall, hey I do have a face for radio, face first into the tar and my right front tooth went into my lip and split it wide open, I now have a fat front lip, as my tooth split my lip, my tooth snapped clean in half, it did not tickle, my mates carried me home, blood all over me and my stepfather decided to wash my mouth out with the hose, ouch, talk about pain, an exposed nerve in my tooth and freezing cold water straight onto it, it did not tickle. Have you ever had a bad tooth ache or an exposed nerve, for how long?

Well we went to the dentist the next day and the dentist said that it would be very expensive to fix, but he could put a coating on the tooth and the exposed nerve, so he put this coating on my tooth but it didn't really do much to stop the pain, I kept going back to the dentist every now and again but in reality I lived with this very painful experience, drinking from a glass was painful, brushing my teeth was painful eating a sandwich was painful, I had to break up my food and place it at the back of my mouth to chew, I couldn't bite into an apple because it was painful. Simply put breathing through my mouth on a cold day was painful, saying the word three was painful, I say free, to say three you need to touch your tooth with your tongue, so I developed a habit, even after my tooth was fixed I still say free, an old girlfriends sister gave me heaps about it, especially when I bought a nokia 3330, firty free firty, so I would look at her and say, thuck off.

Luv ya Lauz

During this time my mother and my stepfather had their trips to country music festivals, they bought a timeshare in a place up at Tuncurry, so that they could socialize and my stepfather got his twelve foot tinny and the camper van so that he could go fishing, my older sister could go horse riding, I would go and hang out with the engineers, I withdrew from my family because of the anger the hatred and the verbal abuse, I chose to hang out with maintenance guys and mow the lawns and pick up the rubbish and go to the tip, it was much nicer than hanging out with my family.

One day I had some mates over and we camped out in a tent in the back paddock, over night I developed another sore tooth I was in a lot of pain, my mother took me to the dentist the next day, he put me on gas and knocked me out, about two hours later he said to my mother ive fixed your sons tooth and I can also fix his front tooth by drilling out the nerve and capping the tooth, my mothers reply was, I cant afford that, the dentist then replied, well ive already drilled out the nerve and at least your son is not in pain anymore, my mothers reply was, well how am I going to pay for that.

The dentist then told my mother to bring me in next weekend so he could finish the job and that he had a payment plan that could be paid off in small amounts over time, my mother hardly spoke to me all week because she had to spend money on her own child. A week later I went back and I finally had a full tooth and no pain anymore when I breathed on a cold day, that day was about 1982, finally my five year tooth ache was over.

A few years later I went to a youth centre disco and a dude walked up to me and picked a fight, so I defended myself, instantly I had five guys kicking the shit out of me, later that night my front tooth was missing and I saw double vision because I was told that I was repeatedly kicked by five guys in the head and face for a large amount of time, that might explain the head for radio, luckily for me my head is the thickest part of me, the next day I went home to my fathers and walked in and said, dad can you take me to the hospital I had the shit kicked out of me last night and im seeing double vision, his reply was, im too tired go ask your grandfather. My father was totally bombed out on the three plastic medicine cups full of pills that he was totally wasted, so wasted he couldn't even drive his son to hospital, I went up to my grandfather and asked if he could drive me to hospital, his reply was, what are you doing here with blood all over yourself, don't you know we have company coming over, I said, I was beaten up last night I am seeing double vision could you please drive me to the hospital, his reply was, im busy we have company. I hitchhiked from Erina to Gosford hospital that day because my family was too involved with their own lives to care about anyone else, so learn how to masturbate, you will need too, if you ever want to achieve anything in life.

A week later I caught the bus to Gosford, the train to Hamilton, the connecting train to Maitland, then hitchhiked to Largs, when I walked in the front door on the Friday night my mother said her usual greeting, when are you leaving, when I replied she said, what happened to your tooth, I told her how I had been beaten up and been repeatedly kicked about the head and saw double vision for two weeks, her reply was you probably started it, she didn't speak another word all weekend, she didn't even say goodbye when I left on Sunday, don't you just love blood family.

This may have led me to come up with the business and marketing plan to create as much money as possible to create a dental plan so that I can prevent another child going through what I went through, either that or I just never like the fact kids have to suffer, you work it out, flip a coin heads you win, tails I lose, love you.

We all go through tough times in our lives, we all have hardship and we all get knocked down, but the reason we fall is to teach us to stand up again, to stand tall stand proud and to stand true, and say this phrase

I'm not like everybody else.

I have been treated very badly by my blood family but I firmly believe that I do not have the right to treat you the same way, I have been very lucky that people have picked me up when I have fallen even the lady at the local takeaway when I was a kid told me even if you have no money and your hungry let me know, I will give you some chips for free.

Mum to me is the greatest word on this planet and yet the stoopid bloody Americans can't even spell it correctly, they spell it mom. I personally believe that guys and chicks can get along, we just need to understand each other, men aren't from mars women aren't from Venus the grim reality is, I came from my father's penis.

Anyone can be a mother or a father but it takes a special person to be a Mum a Dad or a Mumma or a Dadda, I have never had a monster in law, one of my partners parents, I once told, I wish that my father was half the man he was and I told her mother that I wish my mother was one ten of what she was. Some days after we split up, I wondered if I missed her more, or her family, I know I missed the times on the boat that we spent as a family, or more so as mates, if you don't have good mates, good girlfriends, or more importantly good family, you don't have squat.

Economics

For you to be created a man and a woman made love and created you, a living breathing human being, but you do not exist in the system unless you have a piece of paper, your birth certificate, if you do not comply to how your parents want you to act you will be punished, you may be smacked or yelled at

If you do not comply to the rules of the psychiatrists you are nuts crazy insane or have a chemical imbalance of the brain

If you do not comply with the law the police and the lawyers will send you to prison

If you don't comply to the rules that the accountants want you to, they will send you bankrupt

If you look at the time line called, life the universe and everything you will note a pattern that forms

In the beginning there was the barter system, you scratch my back I will scratch yours

Then people started using shells and shiny pebbles, then someone said my shells and shiny pebbles are worth more than your shiny peoples

Money was created, economies were created and destroyed, one day a society came along called the United States of America, they believed that knowledge was power so they set out to create knowledge, science and psychology was created, they patented and trademarked everything so that you couldn't use their knowledge, they created myths legends and fables, they created psychological disease's they created disease's and cancers all to boost there economy, read a book called "confessions of an economic hit man" it explains how America "really took over the world" it shows the lies and deceptions that America is based on.

They created theories that are completely flawed, they created sciences that are completely groundless, they told us that the earth spins really really fast to create gravity, they told us that they went to the moon but I really find that one hard to swallow, they told us that terrorists bombed the twin towers, they told us that a 757 hit the pentagon, yet no way in hell did a 757 crash into the pentagon, supposedly 7 of the 11 alleged terrorists are still alive today check out a this website

www.whatreallyhappened.com

Americans wiped out the native Indian, America was at war with itself during the civil war, at one point it was the Germans, we were disgusted in the fact that Hitler tried to wipe out the Jews yet people admire bush for trying to wipe out the Muslims, the American president is no better than Hitler, maybe we should refer to him as George w Hitler, then it was the Japanese, then at some point or other it was the Russians “the cold war” have a look at this website for the true cost of the cold war

www.kiddofspeed.com

Then it was the Koreans, the Vietnamese, Iraq, Afghanistan, now it’s those pesky bloody Muslims, whose next, gee those Aussies are too laid back, let’s go kill them

The American economy is based on drugs and war, I have studied every aspect of life from economics through to making an inflatable boat right through to understanding military hardware from a gun to a howitzer, from a life raft to an aircraft carrier, from a Cessna to an f18 or the new f22 from stol “short take off and land” through to vtol “vertical take off and land”

We do not need the drugs that the Americans created, and we sure as shit don’t want the wars that they create either, over time history will repeat itself and the balance will shift

My idea is all products and assets including my book and future books and magazines will be owned by a trust, this trust will distribute the funds between my business ideas and charity ideas as well as a public company that will be set up and run by the people of the community I would like to have television shows to find the most talented, business minds, fashion minds, and charitable minds

I literally have thousands of business ideas, see

www.cooleffect.com.au

Tourism ideas that will benefit the community over a very long time frame

“ ETERNITY “

My business ideas I already have the people in mind, this will be a totally separate venture, mainly searching out the latest and greatest minds and technologies to better the community, this information will be readily available to the general community.

Remember this is all about You

As the business's charities and trust grow over time it will all be owned by an Australian company, hey everyone loves an aussie, we will then set up the same system in every single country on the planet, over time all the finances will come back to a single bank account based in an aussie bank, over time Australia will be the centre of the universe, this could all take years, decades, centuries, or even millenniums but with the right amount of community spirit and the right marketing we could make this typically male and

“ Premature “

The future is yours

Learn how to live your life the way you want too, learn that the day you finally realize who you are, then that day you will learn who others are, once you learn this you will have respect for yourself, then you will learn respect for others, once you have respect for others then others will learn to respect you

Love always
